WILL COUNTY CENTER FOR ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT— The emergence of the Transportation & Logistics Council

As a privately funded not-for-profit organization, the Will County CED has been instrumental in providing the guidance and expertise to ensure successful growth and development in our county for over 25 years. As one of the fastest growing counties in the United States, Will County is experiencing the issues that accompany any rapidly growing region—primarily infrastructure and transportation issues. As the transportation needs of our region began to change, the CED recognized those needs and created the Will County Transportation and Logistics Council. The Council is a consortium of companies, organizations and government employees that are directly impacted by key transportation issues. By collectively and non-competitively sharing ideas and information, the TLC is successfully addressing key issues, and positively impacting the transportation industry in our region.

For information on how you can participate, contact Sandy Reno at (815) 774-6064 or sandy.reno@willcountyced.com
